Nukkadnatak to Spread Awareness about Socially Relevant Issues.

Indian society still discriminates between girls and boys. Although, various reform movements have enabled the girls to dream of an independent life and toil for their cherished dream, many girls are still bound to suffer under the oppressive reign of patriarchy.

Good Samaritan Club believes in procuring a significant transformation at the level of perceptions of the students. In the prospect of propagating the views pertaining to egalitarian society, it came up with an innovative ‘nukkadnatak’ providing a stark commentary against the injustice done to the girls. It acted as an eye-opener and served to educate the common masses regarding the inherent worth and strength the girl child carries. The amalgamation of ‘nukkadnatak’ and skit ensured in every possible way to reorient the masses psyche’s and was indeed a step forward in the positive direction. The children performed with all their might and it turned out as one of the exemplary performances shedding the culturally propagated myths about inequality of the sexes. The well organised and executed skit was duly appreciated.
